What liability do I have on decisions like whether this is consulting or not?

It is up to the organization to determine whether the services we require are consulting services or not.

There is currently no specified personal liability in determining whether it is consulting or not. However, the University expects faculty and staff to make the best judgment based on the information available. This would mean that, if challenged, faculty and staff could demonstrate accountability and provide a sound justification for the business case.

Category:

- Procurement/Payables [1]

Source URL:https://finance.uoguelph.ca/what-liability-do-i-have-decisions-whether-consulting-or-not

Links
[1] https://finance.uoguelph.ca/taxonomy/term/107